Patient Partnership for Surgery

The best results from hernia surgery requires the patient to prepare for surgery. Smoking, obesity, diabetes, and weak immunity each increase a patient's risk of complications and hernia recurrence. We make a preoperative risk assessment that customizes the hernia care plan for each patient.

Most Innovative Surgical Techniques

Hernia surgery has greatly changed over the last 10 years. New minimally invasive techniques have reduced complications and improved outcomes. Our surgeons are experts in advanced hernia surgery and continue to innovate and apply new improvements.

The Best Hernia Materials

Mesh materials are an important part of hernia surgery today. New and safer materials continue to come to market for the patients. The Center utilizes the safest and most innovates materials to provide better care for patients

Long-Term Follow-up

Hernia is chronic disease and can recur. The best way to deliver the best care is to follow hernia patients over many years. By doing this, early recurrences can be diagnosed and new treatments can be offered.
